Selectmen's Meeting

NOVEMBER 1st, 1983 - by Virginia Arral

"A Lot of Noise, but no Action"

The entire matter began at 6:10 p.m. October 25, Police Chief James Moran told the Board of Selectmen last Tuesday, at the time a call came in from a resident on Noyes Avenue in the Shell Beach area complaining of loud noise from a dirt bike.

Moran continued, "While the responding officer was checking the complaint he noted the dirt bike was unregistered. At this point Tom Tyson of 7 Noyes Avenue told the officer this was a private road and, showing papers to prove it, said the unregistered vehicle regulation could not be enforced on private roads."

Attending the meeting were Barry Cudmore of 9 Byrne Road and Tyson, both of whom contended that from the time you leave Harbor Road the roads are privately owned by Mrs. Virginia B. Newman. And, as such, Cudmore said a person has a right to drive an unregistered vehicle and police have no jurisdiction. Both agreed the police had jurisdiction concerning the noise complaint.

At one point, Chief Moran said he tried to talk to Cudmore on the phone but got nowhere, so I asked for this meeting. "I'll pull my cruisers out of that area if I can't enforce the law."

SELECTMEN JOHN DeCOSTA, JAMES HUNTOON AND POLICE CHIEF JAMES MORAN WITH SKULL FACE, JARRETT DRAKE, GRAND PRIZE WINNER.

Selectman James F. Huntoon said. "We don't take a hard and fast rule like some towns. Some townspeople say let people on private roads pay for services; others say, well they pay taxes, so they should have services." This was in reference to the fact the four roads involved - Byrne, Dyar, Innes and Noyes Avenue - all now are serviced by the town with trash collection and snow plowing. Huntoon added, you can't have it both ways - if you want privacy you can't have town services, except fire and police protection.

Moran added, "My contention is that in a legitimate complaint even on a private road that an officer has a right to enforce the laws. In this case - a motor violation. As long as we are called by a Cudmore was asked if all 11 homeowners felt the same as Tyson and himself. Are you speaking for them? asked Selectman Frank Suzan. Cudmore said he was speaking for himself.

Cudmore asked how can we (and Mrs.Newman) make the roads private. Huntoon recommended a gate, a chain or an attendant, with restricted admission. But with condition, there would be no public services, Huntoon added. Cudmore and Tyson agreed to check with Mrs. Newman about de-

In other business Selectmen:

HEARD a report from Selectman Frank Suzan on a seminar on scallops he and Shellfish Warden Al Pauline attended at Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute.

Suzan noted even the experts, including a professor from Rhode Island and a specialist from Connecticut, could shed no light on reasons as to why this has been such a bad year for scallops. Even though New England has so much knowledge in one group, they had no answers. They don't know why scallops have a good year and a bad year.

He continued, saying thousands of scallops have been beaching themselves on the lee shore, literally committing suicide; perhaps Selectmen also heard a report from Chairman John DeCosta on a brief informational meeting the Water Department called regarding the Land Aquifer Acquisition state grant with land owners in the Tinkhamtown area. They were Herman Dexter, James Bungert, Howard Tinkham and Frank Linhares. DeCosta said all were pleased to be notified so promptly.

APPROVED the sum of $625. to pay the quarterly payment for computer time-sharing services with Old Colony Voke. The total amount is now $2,500 up $500. from the original cost of $2,000 for the same services.

Selectmen agreed they had no choice but to approve the increase as the services cover real estate bills for the assessors' office, water bills for the Water Department and payroll services for the treasurer.

Members briefly discussed a word processor for use by the Selectmen's office. Huntoon said, "A small computer is the way

READ a letter from Mrs. Granville Trow in which she thanked members of the Police Department, from those on the desk to those on patrol, for their courteous and compassionate service in helping her husband. She sent a donation to be used where the department feels it is needed.

RECEIVED a letter from the State Attorney General's Office regarding the complaints from homeowners Stanley and Karen Orzechowski of Peace Pipe Path. The Orzechowskis contacted the state office on their own, Selectmen noted.

The letter read, in part, "Scott Armbruster, building inspector, had done everything humanly possible" concerning the homeowners' complaints. Armbruster accompanied a contractor sent by the state to visit the property last week, said Carol Adams, executive secretary.

Chairman DeCosta added that the building inspector previously found two or HEARD a report from Huntoon on an Old Rochester Regional School Committee preliminary budget informational meeting. He said the committee is waiting for the October 1st head count to announce the tri-town assessment formula.

Huntoon added that preliminary reports indicate there will be a shift in enrollment in the coming years - Mattapoisett's and Marion's enrollment is expected to go down and Rochester's to go up, with the formula possibly showing a $45,000 decrease for Mattapoisett; $11,000 decrease for Marion but a $57,000 increase for Rochester. The present formula may have to be amended by a 2/3 majority vote of the three towns, Huntoon concluded.

PROCLAIMED November 13-19 as the 8th annual EMT Week (Emergency Medical Technicians).

COMMENDED the Police Department on its supervision of the annual Halloween Parade. Chairman DeCosta noted the Mattapoisett department is one of the few in the state that does this for the kids. He recalled that the parades, under the police department, started about 18 years ago with Police Chief Alden S. Kinney.

Police Chief James Moran reported it was a quiet Halloween with only a few minor incidents.

CORRECTION: Joseph Caton, dog officer, injured his back in a car accident and not while working on another job. The cause of his accident was incorrectly reported last week. His wife, Linda, will assist the dog officer while he recovers.

WENT INTO EXECUTIVE SESSION to discuss the character of a town employee.

Fast Day for World Harvest

The poor and the hungry are always with us. In a country similar to the United States, it is difficult to conceive that more than one billion persons in this world are chronically malnourished.

According to a recent report of the Independent Commission on International Development, under the chairmanship of Willy Brandt, "Few people in the wealth countries have any detailed conception of the extent of poverty in the Third World or of the forms that it takes. Many hundreds of millions of people in the poorest countries are preoccupied solely with survival and elementary needs. For them, work is frequently not available, or pay is low and conditions barely tolerable.....homes have neither piped water or sanitation. Electricity is a luxury. Health systems are Florida the problem is the same. What do we give as a gift? The MMR Tri-Town Dollars for Scholars Chapter may have the solution to your problem -- a Pairpoint Glass cup plate. This year's Dollars for Scholars cup plate is a rendering of Ned's Point Light in Mattapoisett. The plate is the first in a series of six offered by Dollars for Scholars. Scenes from each of the three towns (Marion, Mattapoisett, and Rochester) will be represented. All plates are firsts and no seconds will be available. Since this is a limited series the Ned's Point Light mold will be destroyed on December 31, 1983 and no plates will be produced after this date. Not only will a cup plate fill this year's gift needs but also the following five years. A cup plate would be an ideal remembrance for a friend or relative who has left this area. It is also a nice start for the beginning collector. Plates are available at Seaport Pharmacy in Mattapoisett, Old Rochester Regional High School, or from members of the Board of Trustees. The cost is $7.50 tax included and all proceeds benefit the Dollars for Scholars Scholarship Program.

At the October meeting of the Board of Trustees Dollars for Scholars welcomed three new members. Becky Zora resigned as adviser of the student group to become a member of the Board and Art Director for Dollars for Scholars. David Perkins will serve on the Board and as the new adviser to the student group. Susan Hottel, who served as coordinator of the Mattapoisett door-to-door campaign last spring, has also joined the Board. In other business Donna Wileczka reported that she and Barbara Meehan would attend the Pairpoint Cub Plate Convention in Hyannis October 22nd.

The Board will meet again on November 14th at 7:30 p.m. in the Old Rochester Regional High School Library.

ORR Gridiron Club

The ORR Gridiron Club will meet on Tuesday, November 15th, at the Junior High School Cafeteria at 7 p.m. In addition to finalizing plans for its annual banquet on November

Veterans' Day

Editorial, DCJ

The slaughter of 230 of our Marines in Beirut is such a bitter pill for our country because they were peacefully sleeping for the most part. Secondly, what are they accomplishing by being where they are? In one of the on-the-spot interviews a tired marine spoke the words everyone in this country is thinking - "If there is a job to do, let's go in and do it and then get out". To this thought we can all relate. We have men in Beirut as sitting targets to be seen apparently guarding vital installations with unloaded guns. "MASH", the TV epic, has finally ended its tour of duty years after the non-war it portrayed but United States soldiers still patrol the line there in combat readiness with all the reality of war ready to break. Vietnam is a more recent slaughter. No one seems to know why we were there or what we hoped to accomplish and yet we committed thousands of young men to battle for no possible result except to end the fighting. Every one of our hostilities since World War II has been of this sort. When you have no goal, no reason, our soldiers, sailors and marines should never be committed to battle. The terrible event in Beirut is described over and over again as a senseless murder and so it is. Just so was Vietnam where this country had no goal and no vital interest. Just so was Korea where we still have no goal except to sit on a line and be seen. War, to the man on the line, is a very personal thing. It is hard to visualize grand strategy when the air is full of death. The guy in that situation does see very clearly one thing, "Let's do the job and get out of here". Every time we are drawn into action to defend an ally we can suspect the worst. Half of Europe is forming human chains in the effort to prevent us from defending them. Do they suspect the worst from us - their ally? Have we become too casual in committing our own men to battle without a vital United States interest at stake? Grenada is one of the few recent military actions that comes to mind as protection of a vital United States interest.

A marine is in a high risk occupation. He goes in harm's way. Every soldier and sailor does the same. Without the protection of these young men no country can maintain any political system or even its borders. They deserve the highest of honor as do our veterans of past years on Veterans' Day. They deserve more than honor. They deserve the most careful consideration of where our country's vital interests lie before they are sent into harm's way. Japan is described today as one of our staunchest allies. I wonder how that news would grab some young marine who died in Iwo Jima or sailor who went down off Okinawa (and they died with a clear cut goal). Allies can cut your throat today and sell you cars tomorrow and vice versa but that's no excuse to commit men to deadly battle.

As we honor our veterans, I wish we could be sure that future military operations would never be undertaken unless the leaders of the United States could swear that the move was for, and only for, the necessary security and protection of the United States of America. The United Nations is one of our more expensive luxuries but allies they are not. We can throw money away on such a luxury but young men's lives are too great an indulgence for any country to waste. Maybe the people forming human chains in Europe fear that we will waste them.

God bless all men, living and dead, who battle or battled for the United States. They deserve better than they have received in our recent past.

The Fair is sponsored by the Parents and Teachers' Organization and will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Memorial School on Pine Street in Rochester. It will be a day of Pre-Thanksgiving and Pre-Christmas fun shopping and a day of community spirit, with activities planned for people of all ages. The Fair will combine displays and sales by area craftspeople with Games, Flea Market, Baked Goods Table, Toy Chest Table, and Candy Table manned by children and volunteers from the school. The games of skill and knowledge will be fun for children to play while their parents shop. The children will win coupons to redeem for prizes at the Fair.

Stay for lunch or have a snack. The Cafe will offer pizza, salad in a pita pocket, hot dogs, chowder, soda, coffee and cider.

Added fun for the children will be a crafts-making booth at which they can make small craft items for a nominal fee. Volunteers will be on hand to provide instruction and guidance.

The Candy Table will have penny candy, cookies to decorate, and freshly popped popcorn.

An added feature to the Fair this year will be a Meat Raffle. The Baked Goods Table will offer homemade goodies to enjoy now or pop into your freezer for Thanksgiving and Christmas entertaining.

Do come to the Rochester Memorial School Fall Fair. Remember the date, November 19th; do some shopping, view the crafts, let your children play the games, and join in some old-fashioned, festive community spirit. Admission to the Fair is free and those of all ages are invited.

For further information on the Fair or to reserve a craft table please call Laurel Conway at 763-4274 or Adrienne Despres at 295-8782. See you for Fun on the 19th!

Tails and Trails

In September the Tails & Trails 4-H Club held their first meeting. The club officers elected for this year are: President, Monique Bertrand; Vice President, Kim Knight; Secretary, Leeane Bessette; Treasurer, Ellen Brewster; and News Reporter, Gerri Sheets.

On October 2nd there was a closed 4-H Horse Show at Edaville Railroad in Carver and our club did very well. On October 23rd we had a trail ride from Mattapoisett to Marion. There were 19 riders and everyone had a great time. October 27th was our Local Club Award Night. Marge Mahoney, from the Plymouth County Extension Office, was our guest speaker and she also gave out our club awards. For our spirit awards there were several ties: first place (with a three way tie) went to Leeanne Bessette, Kerri-Lynn Nichols and Sue Reid; second place went to Gerri Sheets, Ellen Brewster and Cheryl Souza; and third place went to Kim Martin, Sally Craver and Kim Knight.

RE: ORR: DRUGS, ALCOHOL
A RESPONSE TO THE STANDARD-TIMES

As a sixteen year member of the Staff at Old Rochester, as a coach, class advisor, and now athletic director, I have watched the children of our three communities grow, develop, and go on into society as positive people who contribute to the neighborhoods and towns they now live in.

Too often we spend time doing two very negative things in our society. Firstly, we take the position of always finding wrong with everything. You and I are well aware of the people we know who go out of their way to make a negative comment about a person or a program even though that person or program has given 110% of itself to do the job right. Secondly, there are those people who sit back and do nothing. They never give of themselves, they don't care about anything unless it personally affects them, and they never take a stand on any issue because it might provide controversy. Both these problems must be addressed in connection with the recent article printed in the Standard-Times regarding drugs and alcohol.

The headlines, both on the front page and page 5, were designed by someone other than the reporter who covered the story. They have created a label for the school and the communities which is absolutely untrue.

Unlike most private and public schools in southeastern Massachusetts, Old Rochester has been far ahead in doing and working at programs to combat drug and alcohol use.

In the first place we do not deny that the evil exists as some schools try to make you believe, and in the second place we have not just sat back and done nothing. ORR has been a leader, a school which has grabbed the bull by the horns, and involved many community people in educational programs and creative programs to help young people through their teen years. This is not always easy and takes the combined effort of many parents and school personnel to make it effective. We have involved local physicians, nurses, social workers and even former alcohol and drug addicts. Our police departments in all three towns have contributed greatly to all of the programs and their success. Students have taken an active part and we have used the vast majority of fine students at Old Rochester as examples for other students to follow.

These programs have not just happened today. They have been active and continuing for many years. We, long ago, saw what was happening to the youth of America and decided to do something about it. Not too many years back we can remember the effort by parents and school personnel to bring TOMA to Old Rochester to address this problem to students, faculty and parents.

In reading the Standard-Times headlines yesterday, I became incensed at the thought of the work of so many people for so many years being wiped out, and at the slandering of the reputation of one of southeastern Massachusetts' finest schools. Statistics quoted in the article were national statistics from the television media and should not be construed as being those of Old Rochester.

We at ORR have excelled in academic areas, our involvement in sports programs, our music and fine arts areas, and in all the clubs and activities we have. And we excel in caring enough about our kids to get off our backs and do something for them. That is what makes these three towns, Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester, exceptional and outstanding.

Yes, the pen is mightier than the sword; carving is an art, and we should know when to care and when to chop.

Mattapoisett Historical Society

The Outreach Group of the Mattapoisett Historical Society opened the Mattapoisett Historical Museum for a fourth grade's field trip this past week. The class was divided into four groups, each group taking turns learning about a facet of life in the past through the use of various items and exhibits in the museum.

Of those participating in this activity of the society it is hard to say which get the most enjoyment out of it. The Outreach group always enjoys the children and their reactions to what is shown and talked about...and the children always enjoy a trip out of school as well as the fun of this kind of learning.

Mrs. Clara Morgan was the "schoolmarm" and "taught" in the school corner of the museum. She exposed them to a very different type of discipline than exists in the schools of today.

Mrs. Miriam Knox and Mrs. Madeleine Furnans helped to dress the children in old fashioned clothes...with the boys in top hats and the girls in bonnets and muffs. It was noted how inconvenient clothes were without zippers.

Mrs. Pat Bernard entertained the children in the pre-electric kitchen....no push buttons there....and even produced cookies from a cold oven!

Mrs. Susan Watjen, leader of the Outreach Group, explained many of the tools and old farm implements to the children in the absence of her father, Francis Rowland,

"FALL TRANSITIONS WALK"

Join the staff at the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies, 430 Potomska Road, South Dartmouth, on Sunday, November 13th, at 1:30 p.m. for a "Fall Transitions Walk". With a location on 55 acres of saltmarsh, maritime forest and swamp, the Lloyd Center provides visitors with an excellent opportunity to explore the changes taking place as plants and animals prepare for the winter season.

Fall is a time of change. As we ready ourselves and our homes for cold weather and the coming of winter so do the animals and plants of the forests and marshes. We gather close around the woodstove, sipping hot cider, yet how do other creatures prepare for and adapt to the cold weather? Some animals migrate south for the winter and many remain in Dartmouth despite the cold. How do they live? What do they eat? Many animals set up food caches to provide food for overwintering, and we'll look for ways for animals and plants to weatherproof themselves. Dress warmly and bring binoculars.

The Lloyd Center is a not-for-profit

Helfand in "Newsweek"

Columbia Physicist David Helfand's views are featured in the October 17, 1983 issue of Newsweek in the edition distributed to colleges. The On Campus section explores "The Threat to College Teaching", an article concerning teaching tenure. Helfand has refused a Columbia offer of a tenured spot in physics on the basis of "conscientious objection". He is quoted as calling tenure morally indefensible. Helfand is an award winning teacher and research scholar who feels that tenure suppresses and subverts academic freedom because of the pressure to produce and not disturb those who determine the future of the teacher.

The article explores the plight of the young gypsy scholar regardless of talent who is shut out of a stable position on any college faculty because of the already full tenured faculty. These gypsies are forced to move from one post to another until discouragement or personal problems caused by the moves forces them out to other careers. The loss of young and potentially gifted teachers is also felt by colleges who have to maintain tenured teachers in courses no longer in demand at the expense of those courses now sought by students.

Helfand is quoted as saying that it is the kiss of death to volunteer to teach two classes instead of one, before tenure. In that case the implication is that the main interest is in teaching and that is taken as evidence that scholarship is secondary. This is one more loss to the colleges and its students.

to challenge and sharpen the teaching skills are also explored in the article together with proposals to change the tenure system, some in progress.

Professor David Helfand of Columbia is the son of Barney Helfand of Crystal Spring Road, Mattapoisett and the late Mary Helfand. He is a graduate of Old Rochester Regional High School and Amherst College, and received his Ph.D. at the University of Massachusetts. He was the recipient of one of Columbia's General Studies Distinguished Teachers' Award this year.

Rochester Youth Hockey

After the second week of games, the following are the results:

The Mite team, sponsored by Hair Biz, came from behind in the last 2 minutes of the game scoring 2 goals, which resulted in a 5-5 tie with Lower Cape. Jeffrey Allain was in net, and Jon Ruel played an excellent game, scoring 3 goals and 1 assist. Other goal scorers were Mark Aguiar and Justin Swain, with assists going to Paul Chamberlain, Doug Nye, Kevin Kelly, Jeffrey Custodio, and Justin Swain.

On October 29 the Squirt team, sponsored by RAC Services in New Bedford, lost their first game to Canal by a score of 3-1. Joshua Hedges was in net, and the only goal was made by Jason Medeiros, unassisted. On November 5, the Squirts lost to Provincetown 9-2. Joshua Hedges was in net, and goals were scored by Jason Smith, unassisted, and Keith Espinola, assisted by Derek Gibson and Scott Gordon.

To the Voters of Rochester:

I have been a resident of the Town of Rochester for seven years. During that time I have come to know and love the town. I have watched with dismay as we became the laughing stock of the area. It is time a sense of responsibility and reasonableness is returned to our government. I believe this can be accomplished and our image restored in short order with a Board of Selectmen who can put aside personal conflicts and work together.

We need someone with business experience, a strong personality who can stand on his own feet and who has had experience with or knowledge of the many boards which help to maintain our rural atmosphere but is also flexible enough to grow with the times. I believe I can be that man. I serve on the Conservation Commission as its Vice Chairman and have working knowledge of the Finance Committee and the Board of Appeals.

I respectfully ask you to consider my candidacy when you go to the polls on November 15th.

Poison I.D. by Computer

The recent Tobey Hospital Golf Tournament realized its goal of purchasing a Poisindex Reference System for use in the Emergency Room, thereby becoming the only hospital in the area with such on-site capabilities.

In the Emergency Department information is of vital importance. In responding to acute poisoning or in allaying the fears of a patient in a non-toxic ingestion, the physician must combine the State-of-the-Art Methodology with the most up-to-date information available.

Often the specific information on the compound ingested is not available or is identified as a brand/trade name.

This vital information is now available for immediate reference through Poisindex, a computer generated data base.

The benefit of this system is a single reference source. It offers the most complete single source of poison identification and management information available with emphasis on specific symptoms and step-by-step treatment.

Management is written by Barry Rumack, M.D. and a nationwide staff of 43 clinical toxicologists, emergency physicians, and pharmacists. Poisindex contains new and revised management of poisons that includes: Pharmacology of specific products, symptoms, diagnosis, treatments, toxicity of the product and laboratory tests and analysis.

Quarterly, a complete new set of computer generated micro-fiche is sent to the hospital. This allows easy one-step indexing for a quick search for alphabetically categorized fiche with eye-legible headings. It requires no reference indexing and no supplements. Each search is accomplished in seconds.

"This most important addition to the delivery of medical care is another step for Tobey Hospital in its 'Quest for Excellence'", stated Charles S. Kinney, Administrator of the hospital.

Acid Rain Study

The people of southeastern Massachusetts are becoming increasingly aware of acid rain precipitation in our region and in the Commonwealth. On November 20th at 2:00 p.m. the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies in cooperation with Trout Unlimited and the Acid Rain Monitoring Program of the University of Massachusetts-Amherst will sponsor a free program on Acid Rain Awareness. The program will include an instructional session on the causes and problems of acid precipitation, a description of the Acid Rain Monitoring (A.R.M.) Project and a field trip to the Copicut Reservoir to observe the sampling technique employed in the project.

The A.R.M. Project was initiated by the Water Resources Research Center at the University of Massachusetts during the Spring of 1983. The Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies has served as the analysis laboratory for water samples collected in thirty lakes, ponds, rivers, and streams in southeastern Massachusetts. The results of the sampling project are sent to the University of Massachusetts for data analysis and permanent recording.

On the third Sunday of each month, three volunteers, Jim Kennedy (local coordinator), Bob Wood, and Michael Gagne collect samples of water in Westport, Dartmouth, New Bedford, and Fairhaven. These samples are chilled and promptly brought to the Lloyd Center where each sample is tested for PH, acidity, and alkalinity
